

I believe the consumer has a right to request and allow telephone soliciting restraining. I am paying for my telephone service and also have a unlisted #. The law should not be overturned nor adjusted. The FCC is interfering with the rights of the consumer and consumers as myself will speak up for the continuation of the no call list. It has been very effective and pleasant not having those pesty annoying calls.